Invitation to participate in the EAPH Annual Conference – Barcelona (Catalonia – Spain) 1st, 2nd and 3rd December 2010

The European Association for Physician Health was created in London in 2008 and its Board was elected during the last meeting in Oslo, November 2009. For further information on EAPH and the meeting in Oslo you can visit the EAPH website at www.eaph.eu

The Galatea Foundation, member and co-founder of the EAPH, would like to invite you to this conference. We are responsible for the Integral Care Programme for Sick Physicians (PAIMM) as well as other health promotion programmes in Spain, and we hope to make your participation satisfactory from a professional, scientific and personal point of view.

The conference programme, under the title "Healthy Physicians for a Healthy Society", will address various topics in relation to physician well being including prevention, care programmes and institutional attitudes. The budget is minimal, which means that each participant has to pay for their own travel and a meeting fee to cover running costs.

The congress will include plenary sessions and workshops with practical cases as well as the presentation of research posters, and the running order of the event will be as follows:

Wednesday 1st December, informal evening session. Reception and registration.

Thursday 2nd December morning and afternoon sessions. Includes meeting rooms, coffee breaks and lunch.

Friday 3rd December morning session. Includes meeting rooms, coffee breaks and lunch.

This e-mail is an official invitation to the conference. Please read the information below carefully, and respond by email to eaphbarcelona2010@fgalatea.org indicating whether you plan to attend the conference. We will appreciate your response as soon as possible and before the 15th April in order to calculate the meeting fee.
